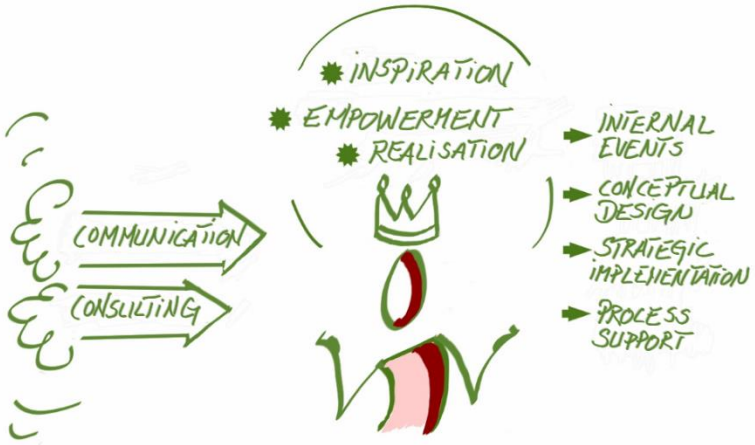
We start where ‘just okay‘ stops

For more than ten years we have offered inspiration and empowerment, realising internal (event) measures and methods for multinational corporations and smaller businesses.

We live in Berlin and work in Germany and throughout Europe – operating with professional and flexible partners for inspiring results.



We work closely together with decision-makers and project managers from the following company areas:

Internal Communications, Human Resources and Business Strategy.

We inspire, advise and develop top executives and their teams.

inspiranten - the Berlin based creative agency for communication and consulting

Six reasons why

With us you are dealing directly with the bosses.

One call is enough to reach the right person: We are always responsive, open, fast, uncomplicated and highly professional - and almost exclusively in a good mood.

You always get the best of two worlds.

We are a well synchronized team and bring together our knowledge of business and culture. We optimally complement our respective talents, temperaments and abilities for every project.

Big projects are our daily business.

For many years we have been moving big and small budgets for SMEs and multinational corporations.

You have access to a wide network.

We work in a co-working space with other specialists in the creative environment of Berlin Friedrichshain - and always act quickly and flexibly in all areas of your project requirements.

Pearl diver and eagle eye. With us you get both.

We are the creative partner in your team, we yield treasures and always keep the overview.

We are your reliable and stable partner.

We build on long-term customer relationships and viable collaboration and manage both "mayflies" and recurring projects over several months or years.
